D.A.V PUBLIC SCHOOL, PALWAL

आरोग्यं परमं भाग्यं स्वास्थ्यं सर्वार्थसाधनम्।।

Schools are learning institutions, even from a media perspective, especially on learning to write and publish. Magazine making is one. Not only does the school administration express their ideas through a magazine sample, but students can also participate in making high-quality publications. Plus, practicing to shape an environment that espouses freedom of expression and the press is an excellent way to be relevant in society. Printed magazines are an example. They can be catchy through showcasing artistic magazine covers. These magazine covers need to depict illustrations while containing useful articles. Often, the editorial staff focus on a specific central theme. Therefore, the content inside the magazine becomes a reflection of the predetermined subject.
